Your committee congratulate the town on the continued prosperity of the Academy and High School. The attendance this year is still larger than last. There has certainly been no falling off of interest; the school has more than maintained its efficiency. Some changes have been made. This, we think, will make the school more popular and helpful. We reaffirm what we said in last year's report. Other changes are contemplated, which will add to the usefulness of the school. We are crowded for room, owing to the increase of scholars, and may have to occupy all the building; and we are out-of-debt, and intend to keep out. Our expenditure has slightly outrun our income, but the balance will be taken care of. The strictest economy has been practiced to keep the expenditure on a par with the income. We shall have to ask for the usual appropriation. We know that it will not be refused. You know the worth of the school. We feel sure that you will do nothing to necessitate its discontinuance. Your children need it, therefore we are assured that you will grant the aid required for its continuance.

J. A. ROSS, Chairman.

Hampton, February 9, 1901.

SCHOOL REPORT.

At the opening of the school year, we secured the services of Miss E. B. Norris, Miss Fannie Carswell, Miss Annie M. Page and Miss Etta C. Blake, all who are well known teachers.

Owing to ill health, Miss E. B. Norris, teacher of the Grammar School, resigned at the end of the first term much to the regret of the School Board, who appreciate her faithful work that she has done in the school.

We were fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. W. T. Ross who was substituting for Miss Etta C. Blake. She has been successful with her work in the school.

The first term of the East Primary School was commenced by Miss Etta C. Blake, but on account of ill health resigned during the term, and Mrs. W. T. Ross finished the term. At the beginning of the second term we secured the services of Miss Annie Gookin and as this is her first term of teaching she is doing good work.

The faithful work of the teacher of the Center Primary School has as usual shown pleasing results, also that of Miss Annie M. Page of the North Primary School.

We would urge the parents to visit the schools as often as possible, and thereby give encouragement to teachers and scholars.

CHARLES M. BATCHELDER, Chairman.
